

Day 2

The Riverview Retreat

16th March 2024 | The Riverview Retreat

7:00am - 9:30am
Safari (Optional)

Jim Corbett National Park not only serves as a sanctuary for abundant wildlife and diverse bird species but also exhibits remarkable biodiversity within its breath-taking landscape. The park features a captivating terrain comprising hills, marshes, grasslands, riverbeds, lakes and is an integral part of the Himalayan subtropical eco-zone.

The pristine setting of the Corbett forest imbibes the wholesome wildlife that is beyond words.

 Safaris can be booked in advance for the different zones within the park.*

16th March 2024 | The Riverview Retreat

11:30am – 1:00pm

Rakesh Chaurasia on Flute

With Satyajit Talwalkar on Tabla

Just like his legendary uncle Pt. Hariprasad Chaurasia, Rakesh Chaurasia possesses the right balance of strength and serenity, very critical factors for an exceptional flautist. His dexterous blowing technique coupled with his training of 'Swar' and 'Tala' exudes adeptly in his emotions through the hollow piece of bamboo.

Blessed with exceptional talent and a resounding charisma, Satyajit Talwalkar continues to have a lasting impact on the entire classical music fraternity, as a very promising young table player of his generation.

16th March 2024 | The Riverview Retreat

1:00pm – Lunch

Delectable flavours in the sun

Inspired by the sounds of nature, the fresh air and the warm sun, the chefs of River Retreat conjure a lunch befitting the amazing music that follows.

16th March 2024 | The Riverview Retreat

1:00pm – 2:30pm

Local Kumaoni Cultural Group

Enjoy the vibrance and energy of a local Kumaoni musical troupe which presents pure Pahadi music. This group has travelled the world and is famous for its vigour and energy. On the last day of the festival it's only natural that we present the colors and music of the hills that host us.

16th March 2024 | The Riverview Retreat
